A RICH SCARF OF ERMINE AND BLUE FOX.

Dozens of the little ermine skins go to the making of this kimono-like scarf and huge granny muff. Two scarfs, each 12 inches wide, and a yard and a half long, and edged with blue fox, are joined for three-quarters of a yard, so as to form the back of this beautiful wrap lined with a heavy brocade satin, in a delicate peach-blow shade. It will be noticed that the garment is at least 10 inches longer in the front than the back. The muff of ermine—tailless, as is the wrap—is banded on one end only with the blue fox.

Lawson Chapman and Mrs. Allen McNitt.

SALT LAKERS IN GOTHAM

(Special Correspondence.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Following the arrival in New York of Mr. J. W. Clawson, the portrait painter, comes another Utah artist, M. M. Young, the sculptor, who with his wife and little daughter will make this city his home for a time. Like Mr. Clawson, Mr. Young sees here a wider field for his talents, and believes that the time to strike is now, while youth, health and vigor are present to aid in the inevitable contest.

Mr. Young and family will locate for the winter at 20 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, and already a studio has been selected in the Miller building, West Sixty-fifth street and Broadway. Mrs. Young, who has a fine reputation as a pianist at home, contemplates taking up lessons with Prof. Herlihy of Carnegie Hall, perfecting herself in some of the bigger works for piano. Mr. Young has had several offers from artist friends, whom he met in Paris, and who are now located here, to share studios with them, but he prefers to establish himself alone in the quarter more frequented by painters and sculptors.

Mr. Clawson is still undecided where he will take a studio, and where he will make a home for his family, who come early in December; there are so many desirable parts of the city to choose from for other purposes that he proposes to move slowly before settling.

A flattering offer was recently made to Miss Claudia Holt for an out of town engagement in light opera—no less than the opportunity to sing "The Merry Widow" in a company now forming to tour the western states. The popularity of this charming opera seems never to wane, and Miss Holt meets all the requirements for such a part with the one exception, that she lacks stage experience. The young lady is taking it under advisement, and it is possible she may be persuaded to accept the part with its tempting prospect of salary. Miss Holt is studying hard to acquire a repertoire in several lines of concert and opera work, and her voice is growing steadily bigger and fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duffy have moved from their home in East Orange, having rented their home indefinitely to reside in New York. Mr. Duffy's business keeps him here, and Mrs. Duffy's music brings her into the city several times a week, which determined them to make the city their home for a time. The lady was Miss Grace Fitzgerald of Ogden before her marriage, and is well known in the Junction city.

Now that election is over, Mr. Jack Sears is able to draw a long breath; he has been at work steadily on The American staff during the feverish season of electing a governor. Many of Mr. Sears' drawings have elicited comments from the editors for their originality in thought and execution.

Mr. Hal Burroughs has another page in Judge, which is considered excellent by those able to criticize. He is also busy on another order, which means much in the way of getting steady work on some of the popular journals.

Miss Sybella W. Clayton and Miss Kimball, prior to sailing for Germany and France, staid at the Algonquin. The opera and theaters were visited as time would permit, and the friends of the young students will assemble to wish them bon voyage on their ocean trip. Miss Clayton visited with her uncle, Matthew White, and her cousin, the popular magazine writer, Matthew White, Jr., at the Hotel Algonquin. Miss Kimball made a flying trip to Schenectady to visit friends. Their unavoidable return to New York through the disbandment of the Kaiser Wilhelm Grosse, determined the ladies to change that steamer for the George Washington of the North German Lloyd, and avoid any delay in crossing, as the latter boat is rated very high in sailing circles.

At the Hotel Belmont, C. O. Merten is registered, at the Victoria, R. Conwell, at the Herald Square, Mrs. Starkweather, all of Utah. The Imperial has as Utah guests Mr. Joseph Scofield of Ogden, William G. Patrick of the Decker-Patterson firm, and Asahel Woodruff of Z. C. M. I.

Last week a big delegation of Elders from Utah registered at the Herald Square, and all have sailed for different points of Europe, being in the city several days, they were able to take in the sights and make short excursions to points near New York.

Mr. Mark Brown and some student friends made the trip to New Haven yesterday morning to witness the game between Yale and Harvard. The party returned Sunday morning, having enjoyed a glorious trip. Mr. Brown was happy in meeting a medical fraternity brother of his, a Yale graduate, who showed him many courtesies, taking him through the different buildings and giving the party a fine time.

"This receipt requires the whites of only two eggs, but it will make cake that will melt in your mouth," says the Woman's Home Companion for November.

"You can not fail if you follow directions carefully. Set one cupful of milk into a dipper of boiling water and heat to boiling-point. Into a sifter, put one cupful of flour (no more), one cupful of sugar, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, pinch of salt; sift together four times; into this pour the cupful of boiling milk and stir smooth. Then put in the well beaten whites of two eggs. Do not stir of best eggs into mixture. Fold them in carefully, drawing the spoon through mixture toward you, then shoving it back with the back of the spoon, nest draw a spoon from right to left and above mixture back with back of spoon. Repeat this until the whites are evenly folded into batter. Do not cream this, nor flavor cake. Bake in moderate oven for 25 minutes, sugar flavored with lemon or orange."

AN OLD TRAY MADE NEW.

When a famous tray becomes old and chipped, give it two coats of white paint and one of enamel. The bottom as well as the top. Stand in the edge to dry after each coat. It will be found as good as new, as well as very pretty. The enamel is easily renewed.

this year, report work going on there very smoothly; both are new elders in the field and have had some stirring experiences.

Prof. Willard Langton is giving the life and labors of Paul of Tarsus for a half hour at Sunday school each Sunday in the most interesting way, and a full house greets him each morning.

Elder Nat Shepherd, a brother of Prof. Arthur Shepherd of Boston, arrived in the city from a three years' mission to Germany, and left at once for Boston to see his brother, returning here to make arrangements for a some trip. Elder Shepherd left many friends in the old country where he labored, and returns in excellent health and spirits.

Mrs. Spauld Corp., who is now in the city, has been visiting her many friends here previous to leaving on a road engagement which will bring her into the city only occasionally.

Ye musical Salt Lakers, look at our bill of fare and envy us! Provided one has the price, he may pick during the coming week, from the following choice bill of fare at the Metropolitan: Monday, "La Boheme," with Miss Farrah, Jadowicki and Scotti. Wednesday, "La Gioconda," with Caruso and Destinn. Thursday matinee, "Parsifal," with Frenstad, Burrian, Amati and Gortz. Thursday night, "Rigoletto," with Melba (her first appearance in several years), Renaud and Constantino (his debut at the Metropolitan). Friday, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci," with Caruso, Destinn, Amati, Albrecht and Gilly. Saturday matinee, "Die Walkure," with Miss Weldt, Miss Morana, Mr. Burrian and Mr. Somer.

Lulu Glaser, in her new play, "The Girl and the Kaiser," are at the Herald Square theater for an indefinite time. Marie Dressler, in her successful "The Day After Tomorrow," had to move to give way to the older star, Julius Meyer, who will be well remembered as one of "The Bonnie Brier Bush" company.

and a friend of R. C. Easton, is Miss Glaser's leading man.

Among the notable hits along Broadway is "Rebecca of Sunny Brook Farm," with dainty Edith Tuller in the title role. When "Little Edith" was the precocious child in "The Bonnie Brier Bush," her chief confidante in her hours of trial was R. C. Easton, who patched up many an unpleasant quarrel between her and her stage "brother," little Gertrude Robinson, who is now in college and retired from the stage. "Hello! Jock," is the greeting Edith gave Bob Easton the other day as both met in crossing Broadway.

At the Hudson theater, Blanche Bates in "Nobody's Widow," is one of the hits of the season so far; the actress revels in a comedy part, full of sunshine, a great contrast to the gloomy characters so long her companions on the stage.

At the New theater, "The Merry Wives of Windsor" is crowding the house; they have chased the "Blue Bird" to the Majestic, and there they are hunting happiness as prosperously as they did at the New theater.

Little Home Helps On How to Be Beautiful

BY MADAME MARIEE

Question on Beauty topics will be answered by mail when stamped envelope is enclosed.

For a Lovely Complexion.

Many complexions are ruined with cheap soaps and harmful face powders, which clog the pores, produce blackheads, stumpy conditions and coarsen the skin. I often recommend, and use myself, as it cleans and clears the skin, acts as a food to the delicate tissues, and does not grow hard, make the skin crack, or cause the hair to fall out. It is a cream in your own home at little cost, by dissolving three ounces of cerol in a pint of water, stirring well until of a thick consistency. Any drugist can supply cerol, and you will find it the most beautiful and most delightful cream you ever used.

Answers to Queries.

Myra: That unnatural hairy growth is easily removed with powder-dock. Get an ounce from the drugist and dissolve in a little with enough water to form a stiff paste, then spread thickly on hairy parts and in three minutes scrape off and the hairs are gone.

Ludlow: The best Lister solution is made with powdered borax, and is especially good for sore or aching feet, or for wounds of any kind. To prepare, get an ounce of pure borax powder from your drugist and dissolve in a pint and a half of boiling water. When cool add eight ounces of alcohol. This is an antiseptic found in nearly every home and is splendid as a tooth wash or for external conditions.

Ida: Harsh winds often make the skin red and ugly, and I find an amaroil solution of the best school of all. To prepare, get two ounces of amaroil from your drugist, then dissolve in a pint of hot water and it is ready. Liberal applications after washing and drying the face and hands soon make the skin soft and pink, giving it a satiny glow.

Elder: Artificial hives are easily detected, but if you use the Vaucaire treatment, which feeds the starved and shrunken tissues and builds up from the inside, you will soon have a pretty figure.

To prepare this treatment, make a syrup with a cup and a half of sugar and water to make a pint and stir in an ounce of gailol (true) which you get at the drug store. Take one or two tablespoonfuls twice a day. This is the original and famous Vaucaire treatment so popular among French women.

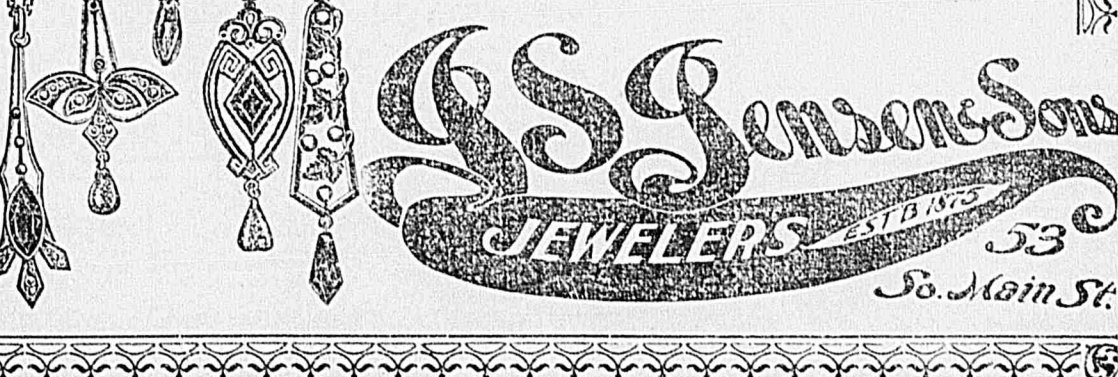

Reader: Your friend is right. Unless immediate attention is given to your hair you may find even a switch insufficient. Shampooing twice a month for a while with equal and using beta-canthol as a tonic, will greatly stimulate the scalp and hair follicles and soon produces a luxuriant growth of long, glossy hair. Apply a small cap, and to make the tonic, pour a half pint of alcohol in a half pint of water, then add an ounce of beta-canthol. Apply every night for a month, then once a week.
